DIAMOND SPECTACLES

TRADE MARK

THESE SPECTACLES ARE MANUFACTURED from "Minute Crystal Pebbles" melted together and are called Diamond on account of their hardness and brilliancy.

It is well known that spectacles cut from Brazilian or Scotch pebbles are very injurious to the eye because of their polarizing light.

Having been tested with the polariscope, the diamond lenses have been found to admit 15 per cent. less heated rays than any other pebble.

They are ground with great scientific accuracy, are free from chromatic aberrations, and produce a brightness and distinctness of vision not before attained in spectacles.

Manufactured by the Spencer Optical Manufacturing Company.

Sale by responsible agents throughout the Union.

J. L. Jungerman

JEWELER AND OPTICIAN, IS SOLE AGENT FOR VICTORIA, V. I.,

From whom they can only be obtained. No Pedlars employed.

The great demand for these spectacles has induced unscrupulous dealers to palm off an inferior and spurious article for the Diamond. Great care should be taken to see that the trade mark ⊂ (which is protected by the American Letters Patent), is stamped on each glass. ap10

Political Party Warfare.

To the exclusive reader of the Opposition journals the party now in power in Canada might appear neither more nor less than an organized banditti ready to sell their country or destroy it as might most serve their selfish and diabolical purposes. Those who read the organs of the "Ins" as well as the "Outs" will very likely experience difficulty in discriminating between right and wrong, truth and error. That it is important as well as proper British Columbia should cultivate such knowledge of Canadian politics as may enable her the better to act her part as a Province of the Dominion and avoid becoming a mere shuttle-cock between the "Ins" and the "Outs," is quite clear. The railway question, at the present time so universally agitating the Canadian people, serves as an illustration. The late Administration broke down in an attempt to build a trans-continental railway in conformity with obligations which became necessary in consequence of extension to the Pacific; and they bequeathed an impossible and broken covenant to their successors. The present Administration took the difficulty up in what must at any rate be admitted to have been an honest, outspoken spirit. They said in effect, "Here is an obligation, we admit; but we have always contended that it was impossible of literal fulfillment; it has been already broken by our predecessors, the party who made it despite our protestations; nevertheless, we recognize the obligation of Canada to construct the railway; but in seeking to fulfil that obligation, we must proceed according to obvious rules of prudence and economy." Accordingly the Railway Act, 1874, was submitted to Parliament, and it passed through the various stages by overwhelming majorities. No sooner, however, was the railway policy of the new Administration disclosed than a cry arose in the decimated ranks of a demoralized Opposition that the grand national enterprise had been virtually abandoned, British Columbia cheated and, worst of all, Canada sold to the Yankees by the connection proposed to be made with their railway system at Manitoba. The cry was to a certain extent catching, and it was re-echoed on the shores of the Pacific by some who found it easier to join in a cry than examine into the justness of it. It was so kind of the "Mail" and other Opposition journals to espouse the cause of the Pacific Province, as against Canada as a whole, that it was easy to warm to the Opposition. The speeches and the divisions in the House of Commons proved but too clearly, however, that the cry was a mere hollow howl of a fallen party,—that they themselves did not dare to advocate more than the new Administration offered to undertake. Nay, on the contrary, a prominent member of the late Administration was found denouncing the extreme liberality of Mr. Mackenzie's proposition! An examination into documentary evidence that cannot be disputed will tend to show that the cry got up by the Opposition was as groundless as hypocritical. The reader has already been informed that it was the late Administration who made into an Act of Parliament the provision now and for the first time complained of, viz, that the railway was to be built in such manner as not to increase the, then, present rate of taxation. Not only was this proviso made into an Act of Parliament by the late Administration, but they also embodied it in the Railway Charter which was to "have force and effect as if it were an Act of Parliament of Canada." Did British Columbia, the party most immediately interested, complain or protest? On the contrary, she not only gave unanimous consent through her representatives in both Houses of Parliament; but through her press and otherwise, she almost defied the authors of it. But it would now seem, according to some, that what was right and praiseworthy in Sir John Macdonald is an outrage and a sin in Mr. Mackenzie; that what was perfectly proper for the former to do, becomes disgraceful "repudiation" in the hands of the latter. But let us see how far it is correct to say that Mr. Mackenzie has re-enacted the proviso which came down to him from the hands of his predecessors; and in order that the reader may be placed in a fair position to do his own thinking, we transcribe the paragraphs of the new Railway Act in hæc verba:—

"And whereas, the House of Commons at Canada resolved in the session of the year 1871, that the said Railway should be constructed and worked by private enterprise and not by the Dominion Government, and that the public aid to be given to secure its accomplishment, should consist of such liberal grants of land and such subsidy in money or other aid, not increasing the then existing rate of taxation, as the Parliament of Canada should thereafter determine; And whereas the Statute 35 Victoria, chapter 71, was enacted in order to carry out the said agreement and resolution; but the enactments therein contained have not been effectual for that purpose.

And whereas, by the legislation of this present session, in order to provide means for meeting the obligations of the Dominion the rate of taxation has been raised much beyond that existing at the date of the said resolution: And whereas, it is proper to make provision for the construction of the said work as rapidly as the same can be accomplished without further raising the rate of taxation: Therefore Her Majesty by and with the advice and consent of the Senate and House of Commons enacts as follows:—"

The reader will see by these paragraphs that Mr. Mackenzie's Act recites the proviso not to enforce but to modify it! Could anything be more unjust than the cry of "repudiation" raised against Mr. Mackenzie? Could anything well be more ludicrous than the attitude assumed on this point in the two petitions to the Queen? Let us now turn to the charge of "selling the country," by connection with American railways. A reference to Sir John Macdonald's Railway Act and Railway Charter discloses the fact that in this respect Mr. Mackenzie simply shoulders the responsibilities forged by his predecessors, with this important difference, however, that, whereas the late Administration undertook to complete the branch connecting with the American railway system "by the thirty-first day of December, 1874," the present Administration leave themselves free as to the date of completion. In conclusion, a word respecting the general question of time. It is strictly true that the former Administration undertook the commencement in two years and the completion in ten years from the date of Union; but it is equally true that they broke their engagement as respects the first and that they contemplated breaking it as regards the second. In the Charter, which received all the force of an Act, we find the following ominous words:—"and shall complete the whole railway within ten years from the said twentieth day of July, 1871, unless the last mentioned period shall be enlarged by act of Parliament," etc., etc. From this it is obvious that the necessity for an extension of time was anticipated from the first. But it is stated that, while in London, Sir Hugh Allan obtained Sir John Macdonald's promise that the time would be extended five years, that is to fifteen years, and that, too, without either Parliament or Columbia being consulted. In sober truth, careful investigation into facts tends to show that all this outcry against the present Administration is only Opposition clap-trap and bugaboo, manufactured purely for party purposes. Of course, if British Columbia can be induced to join in the clamor it may in some degree aid the Opposition in their desperate and most unscrupulous efforts to embarrass the present Administration in carrying out what seems to be an honest policy; but it is, indeed, difficult to discover in what way this Province is to be benefitted thereby.

A Self-Maligned Criminal.

We read in Lord Cockburn's Journal:—"I had a client, David Haggart, who was hanged at Edinburgh for murdering his jailer in Dumfries. He was young, good-looking, gay, and amiable to the eye; but there never was a riper scoundrel—a most perfect miscreant in all the darker walks of crime. Nevertheless, his youth (about twenty-five) and apparent gentleness, joined to an open confession of sins, procured him considerable commiseration, particularly among the pious and the females. He employed the last days of his existence in dictating memories of his life, with a view to publication. The book was published; and my copy contains a drawing of himself in the condemned cell, by his own hand, with a set of verses, his own composition, which he desired to be given to me in token of his gratitude for my exertions at his trial. Well, the confession and the whole book were a tissue of absolute lies—not of mistakes, or exaggerations, or fancies, but of sheer and intended lies. And they all had one object—to make him appear a greater villain than he already was. Having taken to the profession of crime, he wished to be at the head of it. He wanted to die a great man. He therefore made himself commit crimes of all sorts, which, as was ascertained by inquiry, were never committed at all. A strange pride; yet not without precedent, and in nobler walks of criminal ambition."

OLD CHICORY is almost a thing of the past. Finlayson's Coffee presides over the present. It has now superseded what used to be claimed as "superior to any other manufactured on this coast," and will soon be found on every well-furnished table in the Province. Prepared at his premises on Fort street, and sold by all the principal dealers.

New Westminster Mass Meeting.

New Westminster exchanges come to us with a tolerably full report of the mass meeting held at that city on Saturday evening to take action against the ill-advised course of the Provincial Government and a public meeting held in this community. Having already published the resolutions passed at that meeting, we shall now confine ourselves to a brief summary of the speeches. Of the various speeches, Mr. Cunningham's appears to have been the principal and by far the most sensible. He was received with loud applause and said he felt proud of the reception they had given him, and still more of meeting such a large number of influential citizens. While expressing the utmost confidence in the Mackenzie Administration, he felt sure Mr. Mackenzie honestly desired to carry out the Terms as far as it was possible to do so. He believed the Government would commence the construction of the railway next year, and that they would adopt the shortest and least expensive route. They must all be aware of the immense character of the undertaking, and he conceived that the Dominion Government deserved the sympathy of every British Columbian.

Mr. Holbrook, who seems to have made a long speech, dwelt chiefly on the superiority of the Lower Fraser route for the railway. He alluded to the great mistake made by Victoria, and said he did not believe in the Terms being "cast-iron," as some asserted, and he was sure that whatever terms the Canadian Government would propose would be beneficial alike to this Province and the whole Dominion.

Mr. Brown (of the Herald) spoke, but his remarks went little beyond evincing a fear that the proceedings might take a local political turn and a current set in directly against his masters. The meeting, however, confined its attention to the general principles for which it was convened. Mr. Homer, Mr. Burr and Mr. J. C. Armstrong also spoke. The meeting seems to have been both large and unanimous.

Lower Fraser.

Mr. Kirkland has secured the contract for the road from Ladner's Landing to the Semiahmoo road; and to Mr. Lester has been awarded the contract for the extension of the Semiahmoo road to the Boundary. The figures have not yet been made public.

The volunteer company will be inspected by Lieut.-Col. Houghton on Thursday the 2d of July next.

A large number of Indians are congregating at St. Mary's Mission, where an important religious ceremony is to take place in a few days. About 4,000 natives, we believe, are expected to be present.

The contract for building the new Wesleyan Church has been awarded to Mr. C. Grafton, of Chilliwhack. Work will be commenced at the beginning of next month.

The Guardian says: The Committee appointed by the meeting on Saturday last met on Monday morning, condensed the resolutions and despatched them by telegraph to the Premier of the Ottawa Government; so they will be far ahead of Mr. Walkem, published and will be read in England before he reaches the Federal capital.

The renowned Minister of Finance and Agriculture has arrived, it is said on his way to stump the country while those road contracts are hot. Take care not to be misled.

It is said that telegrams have been sent all over the country to Government agents, instructing them to sustain the local Government action.

Mr. Jessop examined the public school at Burrard Inlet the other day. The school is taught by Mrs. Thain, who was highly complimented upon the satisfactory progress of the pupils.

Too ,True.—The Mainland Guardian's able Lillooet correspondent opens his last letter thusly:—"British Columbia is at last hung up to dry; she is now impaled on the horns of a dilemma, through the oily tongue, facile pen, and India-rubber conscience of DeCosmos and the present ministry, who are his tools. British Columbia is brought to such a position that it is not plainly to be seen how we are to extricate ourselves. The General Government, as well as the people of this Province, have lost confidence in our present ministry. They are acting 'dog in the manger;' they can do no good themselves, and try to hinder others who would."

How is This ?—The organ of Mr. Walkem in this city supports the Petition to the Queen. The Herald, organ of Mr. Armstrong at New Westminster, opposes it. Do not the people of Victoria detect the tail of a very long rat sticking out of the Government papbowl? Are Messrs. Beaven and Ash playing into the hands of the Mainland members of the Cabinet by sacrificing the East Coast Railroad? There is something very, very queer in this organ inharmony that requires explanation.

A Material Difference.—In an article in the New York World upon "The Australia of To-day," speaking of the Police arrangements, the following amusing typographical blunder occurs. It says: "In the outlying districts the white troopers are assassinated by a trained band of native police," instead of are "associated with." The white troopers will doubtless prefer their position as it is, rather than as represented by the World.

The steamer Enterprise with the following passengers, returned from New Westminster yesterday afternoon: Mrs. Booth, Mrs. Parmiter, Mrs. Rose, Miss Dunn, Father Fouquet, Father Chirous, Dr. McInnes, Capt. J. Irving, C. S. Finlaison, Messrs. Jessop, Oliver, Crocker, Harvey, Burr, Vaughan, Odin, Jackson, McCloud.

Big Prices.—The attendance yesterday at A. B. Gray & Co's auction of furniture was large. The bidding was spirited and lively throughout the entire sale and big prices were realized.

Municipal Council.

Wednesday Eve'g, June 24.

The Mayor took the chair at 7:45. After routine were read from B. W. Pearse, Esq., respecting the grading and macadamizing of Wharf street, from Fort street to the site of the new Custom House, and also, Broughton street, between Langley and Fort. Laid on table.

COMMUNICATIONS

From Mr. Thomson requesting permission to open Cormorant street to extend the gas mains from Store to Government street. Granted.

From the same, asking if the Council had any intention of placing a lampost at the corner of Fort and Quadra streets, as the Company were prepared to extend the main.

The Clerk was instructed to say that the lamp should be erected when the main was extended.

From Messrs. Smith & Clarke, requesting to use the sidewalk in raising the house occupied by Mr. Lange. Granted.

From the School Trustees, inviting the attendance of the Council at the School examination, and asking for a donation for a Corporation prize.

After some debate, the sum of $10 was voted.

FINANCE.

The following accounts took the usual course: Labor on streets, $137; feed for the Pound, $6 30; hauling, $13; L. Fraser, $7.

An account from J. & W. Wilson for $21 50, for Police clothing, was deferred.

It was also provided that no more clothing be provided without an order from the Mayor.

On motion it was ordered that Messrs. Knight & Albertson be paid on account of contract a sum not to exceed $50.

A draft of a by-law to regulate the

STORAGE OF GUNPOWDER

Within the City limits, was received from Messrs. Robertson & Johnson. It provides that no person shall store or carry through the city, gunpowder, or any explosive compound, such as nitro-glycerine, dynamite, &c., in any quantities greater than 25lbs. under a penalty of $25 for infraction of same. Read a first time. Committed.

ROAD TAX.

Some discussion arose in consequence of Coun. Morton stating that a property owner complained to him that the Local Government were collecting road-tax from him for property for which he paid road-tax to the Corporation.

After some debate Mr. Russell, the Municipal Collector, suggested that it was possibly a mistake arising from the Sheriff using the old assessment roll.

The Clerk was instructed to communicate with Sheriff Woods respecting the matter.

SIDEWALK.

Coun. Morton called the attention of the Street Committee to the state of the sidewalk near to Mr. Sehl's new building.

Coun. Drummond also spoke of the defective grading of the sidewalk near to Gerow's blacksmith shop on Government street, some one having fallen there lately in consequence.

In both these cases the clerk was instructed to communicate with the property owners.

Coun. Gowen moved that notice be inserted in the papers that unless property owners destroy the thistles on their lots within the time required by law they would be proceeded against accordingly.

On motion of Coun. Drummond a committee was appointed to wait on the Provincial Secretary to discuss the advisability of raising the salary of the gaolers and to provide ways and means for doing the same.

A lengthy debate then ensued respecting the cow nuisance, but the Council adjourned without coming to any decision.

Cabal.—Shortly after the arrival of the Finance Minister at New Westminster on Tuesday evening, he sent invitations to a few of the citizens of that place to meet him at his residence to discuss the Railway problem. The meeting was intended to be secret; but it is reported that the hon. gentleman expressed himself as hostile to the action of his colleagues and Victoria in petitioning the Queen; and expressed a strong hope that Mr. Mackenzie would receive Mr. Walkem and treat with him for a relaxation of the Terms! [What do you think of that, ultra-Termists?] A gentleman who was present at the cabal remarked to a passenger on board the Enterprise as the boat was leaving for Victoria, yesterday morning, "If Mr. Walkem goes beyond Ottawa, you may be sure that Mackenzie refuses to treat with him, and then you Islanders won't have a plank left to cling to!" [What do you think of that, Islanders?]

Abolition of Patronage in the Kirk. On Monday, the 18th of May, the Duke of Richmond brought forward a bill in the House of Lords for the total abolition of lay patronage in the Church of Scotland. This Bill, which is a Government one, is very short, consisting of nine clauses. It empowers the Crown to surrender the right and trust of nominating to Crown livings. There are 294 livings of which the Crown is sole patron while in 34 others it exercises a joint patronage. This patronage thus surrendered by the Crown is to be given to "communicants," by which word the Duke afterwards explained that he meant male communicants. To all private patrons the Bill proposes to give, as compensation for the surrender of the patronage, one year's stipend of the living.

A Reticent Premier.—A London correspondent says: "Throughout the Budget discussion, as indeed throughout the whole of the session, Mr. Disraeli has remained curiously silent. There are, it must be owned, certain indications that the Premier, like his predecessor, is disposed to trespass upon the prestige of his popularity."

Sir James Douglas will start to-day for England via Puget Sound and Portland. Sir James will probably be absent from the Province until next year.

The Grappler tugged the bark Delaware, lumber-laden for San Francisco, from Moody & Nelson's mills, yesterday.

The North Pacific will sail this (Thursday) afternoon, at 4 o'clock for Puget Sound from Brodrick's wharf.

An adjourned meeting of the Municipal Court will be held on Friday next at 2 p. m.

Mainland School Interests.

Yesterday Mr. Jessop returned from the Mainland, having completed an official visitation of the public schools thereon. After opening the Boarding school at Cache Creek, Mr. Jessop proceeded up the Valley of the Fraser to Lillooet, continuing along the river trail to Soda Creek visiting the settlements at Big Bar Creek, Canoe Creek, Dog Creek, Alkali Lake, Chimney Creek and Williams Lake, on his way. In these settlements, respectively, there are from three to nine children of school age, but the distances between the settlements are too great to admit of a sufficient number of children attending a day school. From Williams Lake Mr. Jessop went to Barkerville, returning thence by the wagon-road to Cache Creek. In Lake La Hache district he found about 10 children of school age, but they are too widely scattered to attend a day school. From Cache Creek the Superintendent went to Okanagan Mission, where a school district will be created, as there are 22 children of school age there, none of whom will have to travel more than 2 miles to attend school. Nicola Valley was visited on the way back. In this district there are 21 children of school age, within a radius of 4½ miles, so it is probable that a school district will be established there also. At Maple Ridge a district will be established and a school opened as soon as practicable.

The Ottawa correspondent of the Charlottetown, P. E. I., Patriot, after hearing Mr. Blake address the House on the expulsion of Riel, says, "There is probably no politician in the Dominion who can compare as a speaker with Blake, whose powerful arguments and cogent reasoning, clothed in words that form rounded and finished sentences, flow, without break or unnecessary pause, from his lips."

Queen Victoria intends soon to visit Ireland as the guest of the Duke of Abercorn. She will be accompanied by the Duke and Duchess of Edinburgh. The royal visit will be signalized by celebration of an unusually elaborate character, and it is expected that the Queen will hold a levee and drawingroom. It is nearly twenty years since the Queen last visited Ireland. The Queen will visit Russia next fall.

Royal Hospital Benefit. — The Victoria Star Variety Troupe will give a performance for the benefit of the Royal Hospital this evening. The entertainment will be varied and very amusing. Seats may be secured at the box-office, from 10 to 4 o'clock to-day.

I.O.O.F.—The election of officers for Columbia Lodge No. 2, took place last night, with the following result:—Bro. H. Waller, N. G.; Bro. A. B. Gray, V.G.; Bro. W. Harrison, R. S.; Bro. T. H. Meldrum, P. S.; Bro. W. J. Jeffree. Treasurer.

Terrible Disaster. — The floor of a Baptist Church in Syracuse, New York, gave way on Tuesday evening, whilst a strawberry festival was being held there, and 250 persons lost their lives. It is the old story of defective construction.

Victoria Rifles.—Companies 1 and 2 will parade with band at 7½ o'clock on Friday evening in full uniform, to prepare for the annual inspection to take place on Saturday at 5 p.m.

Inspection. — Lieut.-Col. Houghton will inspect the militia companies at Beacon Hill at 5 o'clock on next Monday afternoon.

Angela College.—An examination of the pupils will take place to-day at the College.

The Dry Dock.

Editor of the Colonist.—The Government organ of yesterday asserts that the dock will be built. But when? Orthodoxy teaches us the world will come to an end. But when? Promises will never build the dock. As well depend upon piecrust for a foundation as upon such vague assertion. The people of this place see the summer slipping away, workingmen leaving the Province, and a dullness that has not a parallel in the country settling down upon them; and yet no effort is put forth by the Local Government to fulfil its pledges and start the dock. The Local Government, forsooth! It has raised a hullaballoo about the Railroad not being commenced; but it takes precious good care not to say anything about the Dry-Dock. Perhaps as you say, Walkem has gone after the cement.

Stars and Meteors.

At certain seasons meteors cross the firmament between the earth and the fixed stars. But they quickly vanish, while the fixed stars remain In the medical firmament the great vegetable invigorant, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, has long been a fixed star of the first magnitude. Little meteors, in the shape of imitations, bearing various names, now and then attempt a glimmering competition with it, but they soon disappear from the field of vision, leaving the glory of the true remedy unimpaired. The number of these will-o'-the-wisps that have come to grief within the last twenty years is beyond computation, and those now in existence are in the last agonies of extinguishment. The standard tonic and alterative, that cures and prevents so many distressing diseases, and which no debilitated invalid ever took without receiving a wonderful accession of strength and vitality, only derives increased popularity from the attempts of charlatans to run their failures in the Hostetter groove.

LAST NIGHT'S DISPATCHES.

Eastern States.

New York, June 23.—At Fleetwood Park to-day a trot for a purse of $30,000 between Goldsmith's Maid and Judge Fullerton was won by the former in three straight heats; time, 2 26, 2 27½ and 2 23.

In Newark, N. J., last night John H. Huber entered his sister's room and shot her through the head causing a mortal wound, because of her refusal to discard a suitor whom her brother disliked.

Syracuse, N. Y., June 23.—During the progress of a strawberry festival in the parlors of the Central Baptist Church this evening, the floor suddenly gave way and precipitated the people into the story below. The parlors were on the second floor and the rooms underneath were full. The firemen were immediately summoned and thousands of people crowded around the place. There were about 250 people killed and 200 are injured, some dangerously. The scene in the streets around the church baffles description. Thousands are gathered there asking after friends, waiting for the dead and attending the injured. The fire department were called out and took charge of the work of recovering the dead and wounded. The broken timbers were removed with the greatest difficulty. The front and sides of the church did not fall, but they were seriously damaged. A few minutes before the floor gave way it trembled so that many persons left the room fearing an accident, which had been predicted by many. The accident was caused by the giving way of a joist that supported the floor. The joist ran from both sides of the room to a cross stringer, the middle of which was supported by iron rods from the roof. The stringer gave way, pulling the ceiling and roof down upon the people and precipitating them into the room below.

Europe.

London, June 23—Arrived at Liverpool—The ships Young America and Monmouthshire, from San Francisco. At Queenstown—The ships Ellen Monroe and Bridgewater, from San Francisco, also, the Loyal Sam from Portland, Oregon.

The St. Petersburg Gazette announces that the railway officials have received orders to make arrangements for a visit of the Queen of England, who is expected to be in Russia about the 4th of September.

A Florence journal says the Pope has been presented with a copy of an address, sent from the United States to Archbishop Ledochowski, of Posen. The Holy Father, in replying, spoke most cordially of America. The United States is the only country where I am really Pope in the eyes of the government. I am always afraid lest European governments shall oppose my acts; whereas I can freely send pontifical documents to the United States without fear of opposition on the part of its government.

Rome, June 23—Several persons arrested on Sunday for taking a prominent part in the papal demonstration have been variously sentenced to imprisonment for terms of 6, 12 and 18 months.

The debt of Paris is appalling. Under Baron Haussman the expenditure reached £63,280,000 sterling. To meet this long terminable annuities were issued. In 1869, a loan of £10,000,000 sterling was negotiated, to fund a portion of the debt at a lower rate of interest, and about £4,000 000 were converted. A more extensive scheme was knocked on the head by by the breaking out of the war which brought with it an increased expenditure and reduced revenues—Paris having to pay in money alone, £8,000,000 for indemnity to the Germans. This sum was, however, more than made up by the State. The estimated revenue of Paris is about £7,200 000 of which £5,000 000 are raised by direct taxation upon the necessaries of life, and pressing consequently heavily on the poor. It is now contemplated to raise a loan to pay off the floating debt and it is feared that more taxes will have to be imposed to meet the deficit so that the Parisian citizen has an unpleasant outlook.

Diabolical Designs on Wood.—To show how low and degraded country journalism has become we will cite this: Thirty years ago all these newspaper fiends went into cahoot, and started papers for the simple purpose of laying up enormous amounts of wood. For this purpose every country paper put this notice at the head of its local column: "Wood Wanted. We will take wood for subscription for this paper. Bring on your wood!" Yes, "bring on your wood!" Mark that! Now, what are these rascals doing? why, they have been running newspapers for wood until they have got all the wood in the country in their own hands. And now wood is up—they've made a corner in it. "But," the reader will ask, "where is their market? What good will it do them?" Poor, ignorant soul! We'll tell you. After these country editors have got all the wood in the country into their own hands, what do they do? Why they go to work, tooth and toe-nail, and advocate cremation! They know perfectly well, just as soon cremation becomes a part of American politics, every man will be trying it on his mother-in-law and wife's relations, and wood will go up to $100 a cord!—Sedalia Democrat.

Mr. Jenkins' Parliamentary Oratory.

"A Radical," writing from London to the "Rochdale Observer," says:—It is melancholy to see a young man rising before an expectant audience, conscious of speaking power, with a speech carefully prepared, and to hear his choicest sentences and most fervid expressions treated with derision and scorn. This was the spectacle presented in the House of Commons on Monday night, and the victim was Mr. E. Jenkins, the member for Dundee, barrister-at-law, and better known to the world as the author of such clever, outspoken works as "Ginx's Baby," "Little Hodge," "Lord Bantam," &c. Mr. Jenkins with remarkable rapidity has secured the bad graces of his brother members. I am sorry for him, for his heart is in the right place, and his principles if crotchety are sound. He is a very fashionably dressed man, and is not guilty of a speck from crown to foot. Notwithstanding that he is considerably on the right side of 40 he is bald, and being very fair his white pate may be seen glimmering a mile off. He learns his speeches thoroughly, and has the knack of repeating them fluently, but the old, old fault of not being able to conceal the trick in his. This, however, is such a common thing in the House of Commons that of itself it would pass unnoticed; fellow feeling makes us wondrous kind, and that is an offence which would be generously winked at. Mr. Jenkins unfortunately flourished his manuscript, as if he feared he should forget his speech, and be obliged to have resort to it. By his side rose a pyramid of documents. The debate had been some time in progress. All these things were against him, but he might have surmounted them if he had not commenced in a manner that suggested self-conceit so strongly that he was after the first five minutes a marked man. The House likes a quiet style; it cannot bear to be five-fingered. I never saw a man use his right hand and fingers so much; never so many oratorical flourishes of the arm. Then he had too much to say about himself. "It seems to me," he solemnly said a score of times. The Tories roared when, shaking his extended arm at the Speaker, he said, "I am here to-night, sir, to say—"&c. That was too much, and from that moment Mr. Jenkins' fate was sealed. Why do not these young men take the masters of oratory as their model; Mr. Bright rarely raises his hand, but when he does it is at the right time and place. Mr. Jenkins grandly waved his hand at every sentence, for the space of half an hour; it became very monotonous. I can promise Mr. Jenkins that he will rise next time to address the House a depreciated article. A few more such failures as that of Monday night will settle the hon. gentleman completely. The regretable point of the matter is that what Mr. Jenkins said you and I in the main would wish to be said, although perhaps we might have wished the gentleman who said it to be a little more modest in his words and in his manner than was Mr. Jenkins.

At a recent Sunday School service in a prominent church in New Haven, the rector was illustrating the necessity of Christian profession, in order properly to enjoy the blessings of providence in this world, and, to make it apparent to the youthful mind, the rector said: "For instance, I want to introduce water into my house. I have it pumped. The pipes and faucets and every convenience are in good order, but I get no water. Can any of you tell me why I did not get water? "He expected the children to say that it was because he had not made a connection with the main in the street. The boys looked perplexed. They could not see why the water should refuse to run into his premises after such faultless pumping. "Can no one tell me what I have neglected?" reiterated the good rector, looking over the flock of wondering faces, bowed down by the weight of the problem. "I know," squeaked a little five-year-old. "You don't pay!"

DR. J. COLLIS BROWNE'S
(Ex Army Med Staff)

CHLORODYNE

IS THE ORIGINAL AND ONLY GENUINE.

CAUTION—Vice-Chancellor Sir W P Wood stated that Dr. COLLIS BROWNE was undoubtedly the inventor of CHLORODYNE: that the story of the defendant, Freeman, being the inventor was deliberately untrue which he regretted had been sworn to. Eminent Hospital Physicians of London stated that Dr J Collis Browne was the discoverer of Chlorodyne: that they prescribe it largely and mean no other than Dr Browne's—See TIMES, July 12, 1864.

The Public therefore are cautioned against using any other than

DR J. COLLIS BROWNE'S CHLORODYNE.

REMEDIAL USES AND ACTION.

This INVALUABLE REMEDY produces quiet, refreshing sleep, relieves pain, calms the nervous system restores the deranged functions and stimulates healthy action of the secretions of the body without creating any of those unpleasant results attending the use of opium. Old and young may take it at all hours and times when requisite. Thousands of persons testify to its marvelous good effects and wonderful cures while medical men extol its virtues most extensively using it in great quantities in the following diseases:—

Diseases in which it is found eminently useful—Cholera, Dysentery, Diarrhœa, Colics, Coughs, Asthma Crump Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Cough, Hysteria, &c

The Right Hon Earl Russell communicated to the College of Physicians and J T Davenport that he had received information to the effect that the only remedy of any service in Cholera was Chlorodyne.—See Lancet Dec 31, 1864.

From A Montgomery, Esq., late inspector of Hospitals, Bombay: Chlorodyne is a most valuable remedy for Neuralgia, Asthma and Dysentery. To it I fairly owe my restoration to health after eighteen months severe suffering, and when other medicines had failed

Dr Lowe, Medical Missionary in India reports [Dec 1865] that in nearly every case of Cholera in which Dr Collis Browne's' Chlorodyne was administered the patient recovered.

Extract from Medical Times, Jan 10, 1866—Chlorodyne is prescribed by scores of orthodox remedical practitioners. Of course it would not thus be singularly popular did it not supply a want and fill a place.

Extract from the general Board of Health, London, as to its efficacy in Cholera.—So strongly are we convinced of the immense value of this remedy that we cannot too forcibly urge the necessity of adopting it in all cases,

Beware of spurious and dangerous compounds sold as CHLORODYNE from which frequen fatal results have followed

See leading article, Pharmaceutical Journal, Aug 1, p369, which states that Dr J. Collis Browne was the inventor of Chlorodyne: that it is always right to use his preparation when Chlorodyne is ordered. Sold in bottles at 1s 1½d, 2s 9d, 4s 6d, and 11s each.

CAUTION—None genuine without the words "Dr. J. Hollis Browne" on the Government stamp. Overwhelming medical testimony accompanies each bottle.
